Infringement Use Of Songs Without Permission In Video Clips*

The development of technology and the emergence of platforms such as YouTube, which allows everyone to upload their works online. With the existence of YouTube, a new trend has emerged, namely covering songs that have been published by artists. The emergence of making a cover version of a published song has become a problem where it seems to take over the audience of the original song. This study aims to examine deeper regarding the regulations of copyright law in Indonesia, especially those relating to the use of songs and/or music in music videos or YouTube videos that have been released without obtaining permission from the songwriter. A case between an independent recording company from Indonesia called Nagaswara and Gen Halilintar who did a cover of one of the songs released by Nagaswara, created by Yogi Adi Setyawan and Pian Daryono. The making of this cover version is a violation of Article 4, Article 5, Article 9 paragraph (1), paragraph (2) and paragraph (3), Article 98 and Article 99 of Law Number 28 of 2014 concerning Copyright. The outcome of this case has been won by Nagaswara. This study uses a normative legal method by collecting data which is compiled, processed and analyzed to provide an overview of the existing problem.
